FROM THE EDITORS

Warm greetings in love and light. Welcome to the November issue of the Divine Love Newsletter. As we come to the close of another year, we wish to take a moment to reach out and reconnect with each of you — our brothers and sisters in the ministry of the Divine Truth.

Each of us serves in our own way — according to our gifts. Some are active in their local church services or community outreach, others create videos or podcasts, still others minister quietly through prayer, study, writing, translating, or personal guidance. However it unfolds, your service contributes to the living expression of God's Love and Truth in the world.

As we reflect on this past year, we would love to hear from you. How has your ministry taken shape in your life? What experiences, insights, or lessons have touched your heart? We invite you to share any uplifting experiences or inspiring stories from your ministry for us all to learn from, be inspired by, and support one another in faith and service.

THE SILENT YEARS OF JESUS (LISA SIMS AND EVA PECK)

The Bible is silent on what Jesus did between the ages of twelve and thirty, when he began his ministry (Luke 3:23). By contrast, the Second Coming Messages from Spirit (received by James Padgett, Dr. Daniel Samuels, and continued by others) give us some clues.

Because of his ability to perform miracles, some people have put forward theories that he traveled to Far-East countries and studied under spiritual masters. He did not do that, as we are told by Jesus himself and James the Lesser, who is believed by some to be Jesus' brother.

After his return with his family from Egypt at about the age of ten, he stayed with his family in Nazareth, and worked in Joseph's thriving business.

Regarding his stay in Egypt, Jesus writes: "All my brothers were really born in Egypt (their names and Jesus' education are talked about in this message) and that my family remained there for about ten years or more and not merely for a few months after my birth. ... Our stay in Egypt was occasioned by the fact that my father had been able after a while to set up and establish his trade quite successfully and that he had made his household a comfortable one with all the conveniences that were available to workman at the time and for that reason he hesitated to dismantle the house in which we lived and return through the hazards of travel to Palestine. The second reason was that of safety, not only for me but for the entire family, for conditions in Judea continued to be unsettled and unfavorable even after the death of Herod, for the ruler Archelaus, who followed him, continued in his unhappy ways and much blood flowed in Judea, and there was a great unrest, and it was not until ten years after my birth that Archelaus, who had been demoted to Ethnarch of Judea, was deposed and sent off as an exile to Gaul.

When even then conditions did not improve much because of the hostility of the people to their Roman overlords, my father and mother after much hesitation decided to break up their home in Egypt and return to Palestine, and more specifically, Nazareth. Mother was homesick for her people and she pointed out that conditions in Galilee were better than in Judea and that it was not wrong to return to Nazareth; ... in Nazareth I saw and made the acquaintance of my cousin John, later known as the Baptist."

We learn a bit more about Joseph, his business and his spirituality from Judas and Jesus: "Joseph was a 'tekton.' The Bible translations call him a carpenter, but that is not a correct translation. A tekton was a builder, fabricator, or constructor, that means he worked with everything, with wood, metals, stones, he built houses, doors, plows, yokes for the oxen, he was the universal artisan. And there was plenty of work in Galilee. Agriculture flourished, there was building activity in the near-by Sepphoris, etc., and Joseph's small business prospered..." (Judas)

“...My father was not a peasant or man of the people, but a person with a considerable spiritual training inasmuch as he held a very fine position socially as a descendant of some of the great kings of Israel, especially David and Solomon...and he expected me to fulfill the old prophecies and become king of the Jews, a king born of Bethlehem...” (Jesus)

Jesus further describes his life and spiritual development up to the time of his public ministry in this message: “...My development in the knowledge of the truths which I taught during my public ministry, was caused by my inner spiritual faculties, and my teacher was God, who, through His angels, and through my soul perceptions, caused to come to me those truths...and in no other way did I obtain them. I was not born with the knowledge that I was the son of God sent to earth to teach these great truths, or to announce to mankind the re-bestowal of the great gift of immortality, and the means of acquiring it. But this knowledge of my mission came to me after I became a man and had the frequent communions with God by my spiritual senses.

I was never in the presence of the Jewish priests, expounding to them the law and asking questions when about twelve years of age, as stated in the Bible... Between the time that I was twelve years of age and my public ministry, I lived at home with my parents, and assisted my father in his business of carpenter... I knew John the Baptist when I was a child growing up. He was my cousin and we often played together, and afterwards discussed the truth of my mission and the way in which it should be made known to the world...”

Jesus’ mother, Mary, further elaborates on her eldest son’s youth and development, as received by Dr. Samuels. “...Yeshu expressed his love for his family by working hard for them and helping my husband. He was dutiful, obedient, protective to the younger children, seeking to live a life of devotion to his family and to avoid the sins of commission and neglect as understood by our community and our religion. He was patriotic, too, but possessed a patience which contrasted with the energy and impatience of his younger brothers. They could not understand how the God of Israel could permit the cruelties which Romans practiced in our country – killings, scourgings, impossible taxes, all kinds of impositions, restrictions and violations which they committed and were sanctioned by the Jewish high priests and the Sadducees.

My son Yeshu counselled peace and forbearance, for he said our God would deliver us from our enemies as in the days of Moses, and that a leader would come forth to deliver the people.

Yeshu began to talk as though he was such a leader. My sons would listen to him and be willing to go with him, and they saw in him a faith in God not found in the high places in Jerusalem nor in the hot-headed youngsters of Galilee, nor among the practical farmers and tradespeople nor even in the rabbis and Pharisees of the land.

But when he began to talk about the personal relationship to God, as having God’s Soul Quality in his own being, then we thought he was insane, for to our training and knowledge a thing like this was an utter impossibility, come from a mind of one whose religious studies had deranged his mentality. We could not in all truth understand what we did not possess. Only he knew what he felt; and when he finally left our home to liberate his people, we thought he was a Zealot leader gone to fight Rome, yet bewildered, because he was not belligerent but spoke of peace with Rome through God’s Love in man’s soul. Thus we thought of him as deranged...”

So in summary, The Second Coming messages reveal that Jesus returned from Egypt with his parents and seven siblings at about the age of ten. He spent the next twenty or so years living with his family and working in his father's carpentry / construction business. At the same time, he was growing mentally and spiritually. His understanding of what would become his New Birth gospel came from studying the Hebrew scriptures and prophecies, and teachings of one or more "angels". Jesus was also instructed by God Himself, whom he was able to "see" and "hear" with his burgeoning soul perceptions, awakened by the ever-increasing fuel of the Father's essence, Divine Love, which entered his soul.

The gifts that he possessed – magnificent healing abilities and "casting out" evil spirits (evil human spirits) were the result of God's Love in his completely transformed soul – transformed to divinity and true sonship. He became a true, redeemed child of God – "born of God" after hours, days, weeks, months, and years of Divine Love prayer, meditation, and communion with the Father, and letting that Love flow out in service to others.

Note: The "angels" mentioned in some of the above messages may refer to spirits as described in the message Jesus delivered to Padgett on the Meaning of Immortality.

AL AND JEANNE FIKE'S INSPIRING JOURNEY THROUGH EUROPE (ELAINE CHEUNG)

This past September, Al and Jeanne Fike embarked on a journey across Europe, sharing the truths of Divine Love and connecting with spiritual seekers in the United Kingdom, Estonia, and France. What began as a series of planned retreats blossomed into an unforgettable pilgrimage of friendship, healing, and deepening faith.

Harrow Spiritualist Church

Their first stop was Harrow, just outside of London, where members of the Harrow Spiritualist Church welcomed them. For years, many of these individuals had followed Al and Jeanne Fike on the Divine Love Sanctuary Foundation's online circles but had never met them in person. The retreat was filled with enthusiasm, devotion, and even moments of mystery. Attendees reported seeing a bright light above the church altar, reminiscent of manifestations witnessed during the era of famed medium Estelle Roberts in the 1930s. For Al and Jeanne, this extraordinary experience was both humbling and a hopeful glimpse of what is yet to come.

From the UK, the couple travelled to Estonia. Although unsure of what to expect due to cultural and language differences, they found themselves welcomed by Artto Aunap, his wife Eliis, and Anatoly Chuykin, who had quietly gathered a small but dedicated group of Divine Love followers. Despite being spread across the country and unable to meet often, this group radiated eagerness and commitment. Among them, Helen Kannel, a young woman fluent in English, stood out for her devotion. She has been diligently studying Divine Love messages and saving to attend international retreats. Her light and dedication, Al and Jeanne believe, will carry her far in her spiritual journey.

The final leg of the trip took the Fikes to France, where they were reunited with friends and fellow spiritual workers. They met with longtime friend Christian Blandin, whose tireless efforts in translating Divine Love materials into French and posting them on websites have opened doors for many. While language barriers posed challenges during the retreat, Ralph Legros' skillful translations ensured the teachings reached every heart. What struck the Fikes the most was the depth of yearning for God's Love among the French participants, proof that Divine Love transcends language and culture.

Reflecting on the journey, Al and Jeanne expressed immense gratitude for the healing, inspiration, and encouragement they received. From the devotion of the Harrow congregation to the sincerity of the Estonian seekers, to the perseverance of French translators and followers, the trip affirmed the growing global bonds of the Divine Love community.

After a month of travel, the Fikes are glad to return home, but they carry with them a renewed sense of purpose and connection. "We are deeply grateful," they shared, "for the angels who guided us and for every soul we met along the way."

Their European journey, filled with light and love, is a reminder that the truth of God's Love is not restricted by borders, language, or culture. Rather, it is a universal gift, drawing hearts together across the world.

ESTONIA: EXPERIENCE OF A LIFETIME (DENISE MITCHELL)

My trip to Estonia was something I will never forget. From the moment I walked out of the airport to see the bright sunny sky and the smiling faces of Anatoly and Artto who came to greet us, to the last prayer, and all in-between, will remain forever etched into my memory. I will also always remember the kindness and generosity of our two hosts, and all the little things they did to make our visit nice. They provided for our transportation needs, Anatoly brought fresh food from his family's garden each day, and they put much thought and effort into sharing with us as much of their beautiful country as time would allow.

It was a whirlwind of a week filled with love and prayer, laughter and gratitude, fellowship with old friends and new, healing, singing, sightseeing, and many wonderful meals together. I especially loved taking in the sights and sounds of the medieval section of Tallinn with all its narrow cobblestone streets, the architecture, the churches, and the outdoor cafes. But the best part was our time spent together in Matt's hotel room, the opening of our hearts, and the vulnerability and love we shared with one another. It took four flights and an entire day of travel to get there, but to have had this once in a lifetime experience was worth every minute.

HONORING EVERY HAND THAT BUILDS OUR SANCTUARY (HELGE MERCKER)

Let us pause for a moment to show our deep respect, admiration and gratitude for the quiet heroes who walk amongst us – those who dedicate their lives to serving the greater good and the highest Love. Whether in the spiritual sanctuary of our Divine Love community or the physical sanctuary for our orphaned and vulnerable children in Drimiopsis, Namibia, these heroes do not seek recognition. Yet, they heal the world through their gentle touch and devotion. They are the true agents of change, lighting the way to a future filled with compassion, dignity, and grace.

To all who stand beside our children – the manager, housemothers, caregivers, builders, gardeners, teachers, social workers, volunteers, donors, supporters and visitors – we offer our deepest gratitude. Each of you is part of a sacred circle, serving God's Will by living Love in action. Because of you, this sanctuary is more than just a place, it is a haven for healing, hope, and divine purpose.

In January 2025, Namibia established a national minimum wage of 18 Namibian dollars per hour (equivalent to one US dollar per hour). At Children's Sanctuary Namibia (CSN), we embrace this, knowing that every wage contributes to a story of care, supporting families, and shaping futures.

Belinda and Viktoria in our kitchen

Our staff are more than just employees. They embody our mission. Viktoria, for example, is a housemother who gets up before dawn to make breakfast for nineteen children. Lydia is a dedicated caregiver who looks after our children with special needs. Their love is tireless, their presence is comforting.

Zuma, our faithful gardener, quietly tends the soil, watering each plant as though sowing hope itself. His work ensures that the children's bellies are full and they are happy. Johannes supports Zuma in his efforts. Every contribution is irreplaceable.

Though donor support fluctuates, our commitment does not waver. Salaries are our largest monthly expense. In addition, we provide staff in-kind benefits, such as safe housing, nourishing meals, new uniforms and shoes each year, full coverage of social security contributions, training and learning opportunities, and ongoing emotional and spiritual support.

By donating to our charity, you provide salaries for staff to feed their own families. You show Zuma that his work cultivates more than vegetables, it grows purpose. You affirm that Viktoria's devotion at sunrise is sacred and seen. Every gift breathes life into our sanctuary, not just the building, but also the radiant little souls who call it "home".

As we continue this heartfelt work, we ask for your prayerful support. May your blessings surround the staff whose hands prepare meals and nurture young hearts. May your prayers uplift those who generously offer their energy, wisdom and time, each one a vital thread in the tapestry of our sanctuary.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for walking this path with us. Together, in love and faith, we continue this divine work.

MY EXPERIENCE IN USING AI IN SONGWRITING (DENISE MITCHELL)

It was listening to Lorika Kodet's version of The Prayer (not available online) that sparked the idea in my mind to try using Artificial Intelligence on the song I wrote before the 2023 Laurelville retreat. After mulling it over for a few weeks and concluding that I had nothing to lose, I decided to give it a try. I did some research and ended up going with Suno AI.

It was surprisingly easy, even for someone like me who is not very tech savvy. I only had to type in my lyrics, give the AI a few prompts as to what I desired it to sound like, and click "Create". It was like magic. In less than a minute AI created two unique versions of my song. And every time I clicked "Create", it created two more! This went on for hours because I was having so much fun. Typing in different prompts, I ended up with dozens of variations of my song. And then it happened – what I knew was the right version of "My Brother, My Friend" popped out!

I thought to myself, how amazing what this technology can do! The vocals sounded so beautiful, the words sung with such emotion, some parts strong and powerful and other parts gentle and soft. The AI even added all on its own an extra chorus at the end, giving it that incredible climax. It has brought such joy to my heart to finally hear this song sung so much like the way I imagined it could be.

Because it turned out so well, I used Suno AI again to create my second song, "My Soul Is Alight" and my third one, "We Are God's Children".

Editor Note: The lyrics to "My Soul Is Alight" are in the Poetry Corner. All of Denise's songs can be found on her YouTube channel.

A PLAN OF JESUS – BLUEPRINT FOR SHARING THE TRUE GOSPEL OF THE NEW BIRTH (GREGORY BOSTER)

Dear brothers and sisters,

At last year's 110th anniversary of the Second Coming — the moment Jesus first spoke to James Padgett in September 1914 — I received a simple notebook from the dear sisters' team of Holly, Judy, and Joan who hosted the gathering. Inside were messages from Dr. Samuels that I had never seen in all my 53 years of studying The True Gospel Revealed Anew by Jesus (TGRABJ).

Reading those pages was like opening a door to a long-awaited answer to prayer. After retiring, I had been asking God what more I could do for the Divine Love Mission that began for me back in 1999, when I published my first book, Celestial Messages. That early effort stayed quietly on the shelf for years — I wasn't ready then — but now, freed from work and earth-plane responsibilities, I felt called to share again, more deeply and widely than ever before.

However, I was unsure if I should start by republishing Celestial Messages or with something entirely new. The "New Birthing" series was born. I began with videos and then published the New Birthing e-book of Jesus speaking his truths, which he revealed through James Padgett. It brings to life the great messages of the Master in an easy-to-consume format for a worldwide audience.

This was the beginning of a new phase in my life's work and Divine Mission.

Discovering the Divine Plan

As I prayerfully studied those 33 messages through Dr. Samuels, I realized they contained a plan from Jesus himself — a practical blueprint for bringing his true Gospel to the world. This revelation came as both comfort and commission. It clarified what so many of us have felt in our hearts: the call to share the truths of Divine Love and the New Birth so that souls everywhere can awaken to the Father's living presence.

This year, in 2025, we mark 111 years since Jesus' first communication with Padgett. It is a number that symbolizes new beginnings, unity, and oneness. It's also a reminder that his work on Earth continues through all who open their hearts to Love. And it reminds us that we are all connected and unified in this sacred mission. You can watch the short video The Significance of 111 - A Message from the Master of Love.

After months of reflection, I organized those 33 messages into seven simple steps — a living blueprint Jesus gave us for spreading his Gospel anew. The steps can also be heard and felt in a short one-minute videos where his words come alive.

EVANGELIZING THE TRUE GOSPEL OF JESUS: Seven Steps from the Master of the Celestial Heavens

Step 1 – Share the Messages

Keep the Padgett Messages before the public. Translate them, print them, speak them. Make them available in every language and every land, for they carry the living truths of the Father. Short video on Step 1

Step 2 – Return to the True New Testament

Study the New Testament with discernment — keeping what reflects Jesus' true teachings of Divine Love, and setting aside later errors. Reconstruct a version that reveals the Father as Love, not wrath. Short video on Step 2

Step 3 – Evangelize with Love

Explain the truths simply so hearts may receive them. Hold gatherings focused on prayer for Divine Love and share sermons inspired by the Padgett Messages. Let new Churches of the New Birth grow naturally from these loving circles — a place where souls learn to live in harmony with God.

Step 4 – Live the Practice

Pray daily — not with words alone, but with the deep longing of the soul for the Father’s Love. Keep your inner connection alive through humility, trust, and gratitude. The more we pray and receive, the more His Love flows through us to others.

Step 5 – Build the Foundations

Create organizations and trust funds to preserve and protect the writings so that they endure for future generations. Let there be schools and centers where young people can learn about Divine Love and spiritual transformation. Short video on Steps 3 - 5

Step 6 – Seek Divine Guidance

Trust that the Celestial heavenly helpers are with us. They guide, protect, and strengthen those who serve in this work. Be cheerful, stay united, and remember we are co-workers in God’s great vineyard.

Step 7 – Overcome Obstacles

Do not let worldly worries or disappointments dim your light. The day will come when all souls will be given the opportunity to know these truths and choose between Divine Love and lifeless false teachings or orthodoxy. Stand firm in faith, for this mission will triumph through Love. Short video on Steps 6 - 7

Encouragement from the Master

In one moving message titled “A Sacred Mission – Do You Choose?”, Jesus speaks tenderly as a brother and friend. He emphasizes the importance of the mission to share these truths of Divine Love and New Birth. He calls us to guard the purity of his Gospel and to live it in daily life — not as a heavy duty, but as a joyful privilege. He reminds us: “With great privilege comes great responsibility — and eternal joy.”

A Blueprint for Sharing

This is more than a plan — it’s a living path for the soul. Earth life is the starting point of our journey to the Celestial Kingdom. Through prayer, practice, and love in action, we help bring Heaven to Earth — one transformed heart at a time.

Imagine hearing Jesus’ words in your own home, on your phone, computer or TV — while cooking, walking, or resting. That’s the vision behind the New Birthing Soul YouTube Channel, where more than 120 short videos bring his teachings directly to you in a gentle, uplifting format in art, music, and inspiration in audio and video. We hope you will enjoy, transform, as well as Subscribe - Like - Share - Comment, which will help spread this Divine Message to the world. Subscribe for new content posted regularly.

Join a Weekly Divine Love Prayer & Meditation Group, New Birthing the Soul, on Zoom

Join our worldwide weekly circle for understanding New Birthing, including prayer, meditation, and a brief lesson on receiving Divine Love. Together, we will create a current of light that reaches across time zones. I will guide a short session of Awakening the Soul & Jesus Qigong — gentle moving contemplative mudras that open the heart and soul to Love's inflow. Starting November 6, the group will meet Thursdays 8:00 AM Thailand time – UTC +7 (Wednesdays in Florida, 8 PM | Texas, 7 PM | California, 5 PM | Hawaii 3 PM; Sydney/Melbourne, Australia, Thursdays 12 noon). Soon to be republished: Celestial Messages: A Chronicle of Progression and Transformation.

Closing Thought

My friends, the world is hungry for the living truth of God's Love. Each of us is called — not as scholars or preachers, but as hearts willing to love. If we pray earnestly, share kindly, and live gently, we become part of the Father's great plan for the New Birth of souls on Earth.

With gratitude and brotherly affection,

Gregory Boster

Servant of the Divine Love Mission of Jesus

POETRY CORNER (DENISE MITCHELL)

My Soul is Alight

Allef Vinicius, Unsplash.com

Thank you, Father, for loving me so
For hearing the longing deep down in my soul
I felt so alone and filled with despair
That fateful day when You heard my prayer

That was the moment I first felt Your Touch
When you blessed my soul with Your gift of Love
I am now different, I feel so alive
Your Love has changed me, changed me inside

Chorus

*My soul is alight
Oh, how it shines so bright
Your Love is within me
The joy that this gives me is such a beautiful sight
'Cause my soul is alight*

No longer an image as when I began
My soul was awakened by the Touch of Your Hand
Brighter and brighter each day I will be Because for Your Holy Love every day I will seek

Chorus

*My soul is alight
Oh, how it shines so bright
Your Love lives within me
The joy that this gives me is such a beautiful sight
Cause my soul is alight*

Outro

The joy that this gives me is such a beautiful sight
Cause my precious soul is alight

PADGETT MESSAGE EXCERPT

TGRABJ, VOL. 1, P. 9Description of Jesus' birth and life up to the time of his public ministry.

I am here, Jesus.

I will continue my letter as to my birth and work, as I commenced it last night. When I was satisfied that I was chosen by my Father to perform His work of declaring to the world the bestowal of His great gift of the divine love that was in His nature, and which formed the predominant principle of that nature, I commenced my ministry, and continued to work for the redemption of mankind, on earth, until my death on the cross. I was not then as perfect as I am now, and my knowledge of the truths of the Father was not as great as it is now.

Let men know though, that what I taught was true, even though I did not teach all the truth, and they will learn that I am my Father's true son, and the special messenger by whom these great truths was to be taught to mankind.

I was not, when on earth, so filled with the love of the Father as I am now, and had not the power to make men feel that this love is the only thing that will reconcile them to the Father and make them at one with Him, as I have now. So men must believe that I am communicating to them the real truths which will show them the way to the Father's love and to their own salvation.

You have in your mind the desire to know how it was that the wise men came to me with their offerings and adoration, if I was not specially created by God to become His son and representative on earth.

Well, the wise men came, but their coming was not because of any knowledge they had that I was a child divinely created, or that I was not a natural child, but because they were astrologers and at the time saw a new and brilliant star in the heavens, and which to them meant that some important event had taken place; and, being students of the Old Testament, wherein such a star was referred to as the forerunner of the birth of a saviour, they concluded that that star was the one intended, and that my birth being a lowly one, as they expected was the one that the Scriptures meant, and, consequently, that I was the Christ spoken of. But outside of this knowledge as astrologers and that of the Scriptures, they had no knowledge that I was the Christ to be born; and when it is asserted that they had any information from God or His angels that I was the Christ, that assertion is not true.

I know this, because since my coming to the spirit world, I have met these men and talked with them, and they have told me what I write. So, while I was the Christ referred to in the Bible - I mean in the prophecies of the Old Testament - yet, those wise men had no other knowledge of that fact than what I have told you.

I know that I was sent by the Father to perform the mission which I performed, and that it was intended in the beginning that I should be anointed as the Christ, but this I did not know until after I became a man and was then told what my mission was by the angel and my own inner voice.

My mother or father or brethren did not know, and even after I had proclaimed my mission and showed the wonderful powers that had been given to me, they did not believe in my mission, but thought that I was beside myself, that is, as you say, crazy with the belief that I was the chosen one of my Father. The Bible, itself, shows that this was their condition of mind.

So, while I am the Christ of the Bible, and the chosen instrument of the Father to make known the great truths which I have proclaimed, and which I shall proclaim through you, yet I am not the only begotten son of God in the sense in which it is usually accepted. And much less am I God. As I have said, there is only one God, and I am merely His son and teacher sent to the world to declare to mankind the bestowal of the gift of immortality and the way in which men may obtain it.
