Volume 10, No. 2

March 2024

FROM THE EDITORS

Dearly beloved friends, welcome to the March 2024 edition of the Divine Love Newsletter – a newsletter dedicated to the Divine Love community. We are pleased to provide you with inspiring articles and member updates from around the world.

Eva Peck presents scripture passages reminding us to have faith and not unduly worry in these troubled times. She shares pictures of her beautiful dragon fruit flowers. “Consider how the lilies grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you, not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today, and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith!”

Jose Miguel Sanchez tells us how Al and Jeanne Fike’s visit to the Dominican Republic has sown the seeds of Divine Love. Messages received through Al have awakened in him a realization that the most important thing in life is to pray for and receive God’s Love. Jose plans to spread the messages of Divine Love via a YouTube channel in Spanish, translating some messages received by Al, hosting a prayer and study group, and distributing the FCNB Spanish translation of TGRABJ.

Latisha Bharat beautifully describes her experience at the Trinidad Soul Awakening Retreat. “Nestled in the heart of nature, the San Salvador Estate provided an oasis of serenity, fostering an atmosphere conducive to meditation and self-reflection. The tranquil surroundings became the canvas for our spiritual exploration, creating an environment where inner peace and profound transformation could unfold. The Divine Love Soul Awakening Retreat was more than an event; it was a divine tapestry woven with love, wisdom, and shared experiences that will resonate within my heart for years to come.”

Catherine Kent provides us with an account of the January Divine Love Retreat in Barbados attended by nine beautiful souls (and 15 on the weekends). A total of 24 prayers yielded 34 messages and resulted in a deeply transformative experience for every participant. The love of the group was profoundly felt. The attendees found that many locals outside the group (seen strolling through markets) carry a lot of light, and are seeking and ready for God’s Love. This boosted the overall promise for Barbados to become an important centralized post for God’s Divine Plan going forward. To this end, the local members are starting an in-person Prayer Circle of Light every Sunday at 10:00 am AT (6:00 am PT / 9:00 am ET).

The FCDT recently hosted an online ministerial meeting to explore methods of disseminating truths and aiding those in need. Jimbeau Walsh spearheaded the spirited discussion. Amidst reflections on the ways individuals are inspired and moved by their love and compassion to minister, consensus emerged that the cornerstone of effective ministry lies in fostering a robust, prayerful connection with our Heavenly Father. We encourage all, irrespective of how they may be serving others, to reaffirm their bond with God through prayer for His Divine Love. Cultivating a daily routine of communing with God in prayer and meditation is paramount. By devoting time to prayer, you beckon the Celestials, who will intercede on your behalf and join you on your spiritual journey, thus expediting your progress. There may be occasions when prayer feels daunting or when life's demands seem overwhelming. Yet, we implore you to preserve that sacred space for God in your life. God remains ever-present, eagerly waiting to fill your lamp with oil and draw you nearer to His loving embrace and the Celestial abode of the Heavenly Kingdom.

LESSONS FROM THE “LILIES” (EVA PECK)

In Luke’s gospel, chapter 12, verses 27-31, Jesus instructed his disciples: “Consider how the lilies grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you, not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today, and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith! (v. 27-28)

And do not set your heart on what you will eat or drink; do not worry about it. ... your Father knows that you need them. But seek his kingdom, and these things will be given to you as well.” (v. 29-31)

“Lilies” in Our Backyard

In the last four years, about this time of the year, which is summer in Australia, my husband and I have been blessed with amazingly beautiful dragon fruit flowers in our back yard. While, strictly speaking, not lilies, they are not too different, and perhaps even more beautiful. The lessons of Jesus’ teaching certainly apply here. So what follows are some reflections on our experience and the above scripture passage.

Two to three weeks prior, several buds appeared on our dragon fruit cactus. Slowly they grew and increased in size. Some became slightly larger than the others. Then one evening, one or more opened into glorious flowers.

“Not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these.” While I cannot imagine Solomon’s splendour, which impressed many in his time, including the Queen of Sheba (1 Kings 10:1-29), the splendour and beauty found in God’s creation easily surpasses anything man can create, which often is only an imitation of nature.

“If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today, and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith!”

The dragon fruit flowers began opening at dusk, were fully open by about 9 pm, and by early in the morning they were still beautiful, but slowly closing. By mid-morning to noon they were almost closed and droopy, and by the evening, they were finished – not at all reminiscent of their magical glory just 24 hours prior.

Just like the very brief life of the flowers, relatively speaking, human life too is short. Compared to the time humanity has been on the planet – estimated to be about 200,000 years – each person has a maximum life span of about a century, i.e., 0.05% of human history, but in most cases, it is much less. Many die considerably younger – at 50-70 years of age or younger still. Visiting a cemetery, one can see graves or plaques of individuals who lived just a few days, died as children, teens, young adults, middle-aged adults, or senior citizens. All age groups are represented. No one is guaranteed a long life. The end of life can come suddenly and with no or little warning through an accident, being in the wrong place at a wrong time, or an unexpected health episode like a heart attack or stroke. Therefore it is important to make the most of our life and time while we have it. Since few know how much time they have on the earth, it is vital to make sure we use our life in the best way.

How to Minimize Worry

Many in our day and age are plagued by fear, worry, anxiety and even despair and depression. Times are hard and many are struggling. Jesus' advice to his disciples has relevance here as well. He speaks of priorities: "Do not set your heart on what you will eat or drink; do not worry about [such things]. ... Your Father knows that you need them. But seek his kingdom, and these things will be given to you as well."

Compared to that of the most beautiful flowers, God has a much grander and more special purpose for humans. They are the most precious and wonderful beings of his creation, with an incredible potential. If they so choose, they can receive His divine substance and nature and become His true children with an eternal future. So if He provides a gorgeous attire and all needs for plants and flowers, how confident and faith filled can we be that He knows all our needs and we too will be provided for in every way!

So how can we increase our faith and trust that our heavenly Father will provide when He exhorts us not to fear and worry? Indeed, it is a matter of priorities. Verse 31 gives us a specific answer: "Seek his kingdom, and these things will be given to you as well." So how do we seek God's Kingdom?

Seeking God's Kingdom

When on earth, Jesus preached the gospel (good news) of God's Kingdom. It was also the gospel of salvation (Eph. 1:13; Tit. 3:5). He told Nicodemus that the condition for seeing the Kingdom was to be born again (John 3:3). He also spoke of the Holy Spirit, which Paul in Romans 5:5 tells us brings God's Love into our hearts.

Jesus was the first to possess God's Divine Love after it was withheld from humanity when the first parents, Aman and Amon (Adam and Eve in the book of Genesis), rejected its offer. Having the Divine Love in his soul from early in his life, Jesus is the firstborn of many siblings (Rom. 8:29), and the first to have entered the Kingdom of God / Kingdom of heaven where he is now the head or master (Col. 1:18).

The new birth / salvation means having one's soul transformed by the Divine Love from the image of God into the substance of God and becoming at one with God through fully acquiring His divine nature (John 14:20; 17:21-23; 2 Pet. 1:4). Those so transformed become God's true and redeemed children who can enter the Celestial Kingdom of God.

All this happens by grace – everything for our salvation can be given to us freely by God and is available for the asking through sincere heartfelt prayer. All we need to do is graciously accept these gifts and work on increasing them in our lives – grow in the divine nature and in God's Love so that we will reach the point of full soul transformation into sinless divine beings, aka divine angels – a totally new creation (2 Cor 5:17).

God desires humans to have a relationship with Him, not just as His created children (which we all already are), but as His true redeemed children who are becoming at one with Him and share more and more in His Divine Love and nature. To start on the journey to this special relationship, simply express your love and desire to get to know God as your loving heavenly Father and to have Him in your life. Ask Him to open your soul to the inflowing of His Love imparted by the Holy Spirit (Rom. 5:5) to transform you. Build a daily prayer habit and maintain an ongoing relationship with God, asking for guidance, mercy and His Love as often as you can.

In time, as we do this, we'll notice a self-transformation. Our desires will change and become more spiritually oriented. Things and values of the world will become of less and less interest and importance. We'll become more kind and loving.

More peace will be ours. We may also feel sensations in the heart region which is connected with, or a doorway to, the soul. We may become aware of spiritual gifts to serve others. All this and other positive changes are evidence of us becoming a new creature / creation (2 Cor 5:17), of having a heart change (spiritual heart transplant if you will), of moving toward the new birth that Jesus talked to Nicodemus about (John 3:3). It is a process that in due time will culminate in a full transformation into a divine being and a place in the Kingdom of God with never-ending opportunities for further growth in love, joy and closeness to your heavenly Father.

In the Meantime ...

While we are seeking God's Kingdom and growing in His Love, as long as we are in our physical bodies, we still have to live in the world. We don't know what 2024 will bring with challenging economic conditions, increasing confusion, climate and earth changes causing weather, volcano and earthquake disasters, dangerous tensions rising among nations, dragging-out wars, increasing nuclear arsenal, and more.

Whatever the year will bring, may we always remember the lessons from the "lilies", or in our case, the even more glorious dragon fruit flowers that we have been blessed with over the last few years: "If that is how God clothes the [flowers], which [are] here today, and tomorrow [they wilt and die], how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith! And do not set your heart on what you will eat or drink; do not worry about it. ... your Father knows that you need them. But seek his kingdom, and these things will be given to you as well." (Luke 12:27-31, adapted)

SEEDS OF DIVINE LOVE SOWN IN DOMINICAN REPUBLIC (JOSE MIGUEL SANCHEZ)

The visit of the Fikes in December 2023 has sown the seeds of Divine Love in the Dominican Republic. With my wife Lida and son Luis Miguel, we travelled to Punta Cana to receive the light bringers, Jeanne and Al. Despite twisting my foot, which was painful, the retreat with them served as a time for prayer and meditation. Messages received by Al from John, Mary and Confucius have awakened in me the realization that the most important thing in this life is to pray for and receive Divine Love. We must pray every moment of our lives and ask for divine presence. God's Love is everything. It should be our number one priority.

After the death of my brother Dr. Willy Sanchez on December 20, 2022, I asked myself questions such as what is the purpose of life and is there life after death. This led me to seek Divine Love and contact Jeanne. I had no idea they were going to visit Puerto Plata last year on a retreat cruise. This is how I came into contact with the Divine Love community. The Fikes spent about six hours with me and my wife in January 2023. That was my first encounter with the light bringers on their spiritual mission through the Caribbean. How wonderful this meeting was in guiding my life along the path of Divine Love! It inspired me to begin a ministry of spreading the Divine Love messages in Spanish.

During Jeanne and Al's visit to the Dominican Republic this past December, there was no formal spiritual retreat. However, our country still received for the first time the blessing of messages from Celestial beings through AI. We had morning and afternoon prayers, and I also spoke about the projects that I am planning this year to spread the messages of Divine Love: YouTube channel in Spanish, translation of basic messages received by AI, a prayer and study group, distribution of the FCNB's Spanish translation of Volume 1 of the Padgett messages, and talks and presentations to introduce the Padgett messages. My plan is also the creation of a non-profit organization for seniors in order to help them with food and medicine – which was my late brother's desire -- and above all to share with them the messages.

Jeanne and Al's visit fulfilled its objective for the Caribbean Spanish-speaking world. Let us pray that the seeds they have sown lead us along the path of Divine Love. I feel a very big responsibility to our Creator to transmit His messages in Spanish. I would also like to thank Matt and his lovely family for sharing, praying, and staying with us for a short time.

TRINIDAD SOUL AWAKENING RETREAT: A DIVINE CHOCOLATEY EXPERIENCE (LATISHA BHARAT)

I am thrilled to share my enchanting experience at the Divine Love Soul Awakening Retreat held January 4-10, 2024, a celestial journey that transcended the ordinary and left a lasting imprint on my soul. Hosted at the idyllic San Salvador Estate, this retreat was a harmonious blend of natural beauty, spiritual rejuvenation, and delightful chocolatey indulgence.

Ashley Caron

Nestled in the heart of nature, the San Salvador Estate provided an oasis of serenity, fostering an atmosphere conducive to meditation and self-reflection. The tranquil surroundings became the canvas for our spiritual exploration, creating an environment where inner peace and profound transformation could unfold.

The retreat was graced by the wisdom and insights of exceptional speakers - Karen Swanson, Jeanne and Albert Fike, and Dr. Matthew Delano. Their presence added layers of depth, making each session truly enlightening and inspirational. These esteemed speakers shared a wealth of knowledge, diverse perspectives, and personal anecdotes, creating an atmosphere of profound introspection and individual growth.

Karen Swanson and her team played a pivotal role in crafting a warm and welcoming atmosphere. Their kindness and hospitality made every participant feel like a cherished member of an extended soul family. I had the pleasure of connecting with Jeanne, whose fun-loving and approachable nature added an extra layer of joy to the retreat. Her thoughtful gift of Guardian Angel pendants, handmade in Germany, now graces my daily wear, serving as a beautiful reminder of the soulful connections forged during our time together.

Lunchtime at the retreat was a sensorial delight, transcending mere sustenance. The curated curry meals by Sita Ramsaran and her team were both delicious and wholesome. The communal dining experience became a sacred space for connection and camaraderie, fostering meaningful conversations and deepening bonds among like-minded souls.

The personal testimonies and transformative stories shared by the speakers acted as beacons of inspiration, igniting a renewed vigor within me to embark on my spiritual journey with purpose. The Divine Love Soul Awakening Retreat was more than an event; it was a divine tapestry woven with love, wisdom, and shared experiences that will resonate within my heart for years to come.

DIVINE LOVE RETREAT IN BARBADOS (CATHERINE KENT)

Nine souls gathered in Barbados for an intensive Divine Love prayer retreat from 11-22 January 2024. Six overseas visitors (Jeanne and Al Fike, Elizabeth Mack, Debra Taylor, George Apic, and Catherine Kent) were graciously hosted by three locals (James Albert Tudor, Michael Rudder, and David Jordan). Each day the group gathered for a minimum of morning and evening prayers at Al and Jeanne’s apartment. With 24 consecutive prayers yielding 34 messages, the experience was deeply transformative for every participant.

The love of the group was profoundly felt, and was enhanced by not one, but two Divine Love mediums (Al and Elizabeth). As the group gained rapport with one another and their Celestial guides, messages came through which were relevant to daily conversations, included individual prophecies for the hosts, and brought integrated understandings to everyone.

On the two Saturdays, the group expanded to include six additional individuals, three of whom were new to Divine Love teachings, one who came again after attending a retreat for the first time in Trinidad, one person who is a longtime follower of Divine Love teachings, and David's son Jamel. This larger group met at David Jordan’s home, which receives trade winds that refreshed not only the attendees’ souls but also their bodies with microbiome particles from around the globe.

This special location, atop a lofty bluff, highlighted the uniquely centralized position of Barbados on the planet, which was a key point of focus for the retreat. To illustrate, James began by sharing significant moments in Barbados history, in context of world history, that demonstrate the large impact the relatively small island nation has had on the world. This served as an inspiration for the group to consider, particularly in relation to the specific focus of the retreat, What is our role in the changing society, in harmony with God’s Will? The answer to that question emerged early, and was expanded and enriched throughout: Gather to pray in person, and invite more locals to join.

This vision was reinforced by multiple angelic messages, including from Jesus, Bartholomew, James’s father James Arthur (who is now a Celestial), and David’s mother Grace (who is James Arthur’s sister, and also a Celestial). Perhaps best of all, the visitors found that many locals beyond the group (seen strolling through markets) carry a lot of light, and are seeking and ready for God’s Love. This boosted the overall promise for Barbados to become an important centralized post for God’s Divine Plan going forward. The three Barbadian hosts, plus one newcomer (Patricia), were specifically encouraged to take steps now to help Barbados fulfill its Divine Love potential in the world.

To top off the soul-felt prayers, the group enjoyed sharing meals and local pastries. The three hosts also arranged for the participants a privately guided tour of the island, complete with a delicious luncheon overlooking the ocean. This was a magnificent celebration of life – and Debra's birthday!

SUCH IS LIFE (UNKNOWN AUTHOR)

We often hope that our life will go like the top part of the picture, but find ourselves more like in the bottom half. Indeed, the human existence is full of challenges. Sometimes we cause our own problems through unwise decisions and actions. Other times, we encounter situations that were not necessarily our fault. In all cases, the wisest is to accept what has happened, look for the positive in it with gratitude, learn from it what we can, and do the best under the circumstances – and of course pray and seek God’s help and guidance.

GOD’S LOVE FOR HUMANS (MICHAEL NEDBAL)

Below are two images created by artificial intelligence from the prompt “God loving human beings”. Isn’t it interesting how AI portrayed God’s Love for His children? On one hand, we see the typical image of an angel with wings and light perhaps representing the Holy Spirit. (Note that the boy’s hand is over the soul of the angel and not the heart). On the other hand, AI created an image of impoverished children guided by an elder to pray.

Matthew 18:1-3 states, "Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven". One could interpret the pictures as representing the start of the journey home to the Celestial Kingdom with the humility and innocence of children desiring God’s Love, and the culmination of one’s prayerful efforts to being transformed into an angel living in the Celestial Kingdom. I love the fact that AI chose to represent God’s Love for humanity with children. It is a reminder to view the world through the eyes of children and not look upon others, or ourselves, with judgement, but with understanding, compassion, and love.

Listening Within

GraphicStock

What do we teach to others?
What do our lives reflect?
Are we examples of Loving?
Do our actions command respect?

All of our actions are speaking
All that our hearts have known.
Is that knowledge worth keeping
Or lessons for which we atone?

Is yours a lamp of brightness
Held high for all to see,
Or have you a cave of darkness
Still waiting to be set free?

We grow as we learn and go forward.
We glean what we can for our soul.
We're meant to share that with others.
The teaching is part of the role.

For nothing is lost in the growing,
And everything's there for the gain.

The sun shines at the dawning.
All we need shall be attained.

When we receive the calling
We must listen with all of our might,
Never returning to darkness
But following what we know to be right.

Walking our path with honor,
Heeding the guidance received,
Keeping our vision the highest.
What will be is what we believe.

For we have the power within us
To become what we hold in our mind,
Boosting the visions with feeling
All of our treasures to find.

We have the power of God within us.
He's not somewhere far off or apart.
We know this in stillness and silence
When we listen within our hearts.

The importance of getting the Divine Love in the soul.

Ann Rollins

I am here, your grandmother.

I wish to tell you more about the things of the spirit, for they are the important things that you should know. You are very near the Kingdom, and if you keep on trying to have more of God's Love in your soul, you will soon realize the full joy and peace which comes with such possession. Try to let your heart receive more of His Love, for He is always ready and waiting to bestow His Love upon you. He is the one Lovely Father for you to long for and keep with you in all your thoughts and aspirations. Do not let the worries of life keep you from loving and believing that He wants you to become one with Him in Love and Grace. He is not only waiting for you to let His Love flow into your heart, but He is anxiously knocking at the door of your heart, that you may open and let Him enter.

Be true to your best spiritual longings, and you will soon feel that you have got that in your soul which will give you perfect peace and happiness. You are only now beginning to learn that you must feel that your Father is so near you, that He must become a part of your life and being. When that Love has fully taken possession of you, you will know that you are His own true and reconciled son, just as all are who have come into a realization of that Love. So do not doubt that you may become such a son of your Father, for I tell you that I know from my own experience, the grandeur of living in the favor of His Blessing.

Be my own dear boy and do try to reach out and get this Love. You must not let the things of your earth life keep you from the higher things that the Father has prepared to give you. You will soon know, as I know, that the only things worth striving after are the things of this spiritual Love of the Father. Be more anxious to get this knowledge, and it will come to you in all its beauty and convincing force. I so wish that you could see the Holy Spirit's work among men and spirits, for then you would not doubt any more that God is a God of Love, and not of anger or retribution.

Keep praying, for that is the one great means to receive the Love of God. Without prayer men cannot reach the answering ear of the Father's Grace. He will hear the penitent only, for He will not accept anyone who is not truly and anxiously seeking Him. Man has a will to either accept or reject the Love of God, and until he exercises his will in a way to show that he wants that Love, it will not be given him. No man is ever forced to love God or to let God's Love come into his heart.

The Love of God cannot be defined, for it passes all understanding, but the result of that Love, when in the souls of men, can be seen and felt, in the exceeding beauty in the countenances of men, and in their wonderful happiness.

No fear of death or anything that maketh afraid can possibly exist where this Love is. It is not the Love that permits any feelings of jealousy or envy to have an entrance, but is so perfect and all soul filling that there cannot possibly be any room for anything but its own great self. I know that the Love of God is the only thing that can make man supremely happy while on earth, and after he becomes a spirit.

My love for Him is such that I love every one of His creatures, be they saints or sinners. And that is the difference between the love that He inspires in His children, and the love that exists among men and spirits, which has not His Love for its foundation. Be sure that no man can be perfectly happy without this Divine Love.
